N a young girl's life there comes a time when the careless innocence of child-hood changes to the modest, blushing maidenly self-consciousness of approaching maturity.

The eye is brighter;
the form is rounder;
there is a touch of shy coquetry in the glance:—the girl has become a woman. She has entered that critical period so full of happy possibil-ities, yet so hedged about with the phy-sical sufferings and sical sufferings and dangers peculiar to her sex.

It has been said that to be awoman is to suffer. Too often this is true. A woman's whole nature is so bound up in the special functions of the summan of the special functions of the summan is throws the whole system.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN ALLIANCE. The strongest impression that appears to have been produced in Paris is that the paramount object of the Czar's v.sit was to make an alliance with their rulers. He accomplished that object with wonderful cleverness. Not only Chamberlain, on his visit to America, did he visit every great shrine of na tional pride and patriotism, but to direct representatives of the people, such as President Brisson, of the Chamber, and President Baudine, of the Paris Municipal Council, he expressed his appreciation of republican institutions.

Discussion has been revived over the question whether a written treaty of alliance exists between France and Russia. It is entirely immaterial The Czir evidently knows that his alliance must rest upon the affection of the French masses, for without that a reaty would be of no value. There is no question that he has secured it, nor judian will return to Washington, D. is it doubtful that he will be able to C., by the next steamer, and it is earnhold it yet awhile.

The attitude of the rest of Europe has been interesting. None has attempted to minimize the importance of the great political event, but there has been an almost amusing attempt in each cour-try to point the finger of significance in ome other direction. Thus some English papers early in the week affected contempt toward the French manifestations of affection for the great autocrat and talked about warning the po-litical holders of Alsace Lorraine. Oa the other hand, Bismarck's organ indulged yesterday in savage anti-English comments.

Russia's domination of the new dual alliance is complete. M. Hanotaux, who is especially persona grata to the Emperor, is more an assistant secretary of Foreign Affairs of Russia than he is foreign minister of France. There are s veral versions of his interview with the Czar regarding Turkey, but they are conflicting and many of them apocryphal.

The indications still are that France will continue to act as an instrument of the powers in impressing their will ipon the sultan. The latest report is that this includes the opening of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus to all foreign warships and the appointment of Turkish ministers to be subject to the approval of the ambassadors of the powers. This is a large order, and if al ernative of its acceptance by the Sulsave time by ordering their fleets to of Spotsylvania, near Blanton's store, was attacked by a vicious bull Wednesday and so badly injured as to die from his injuries the next day. It seems that he and Mr. Blanton were passing through the field in which the animal was, and without any seeming cause he sprang upon Mr. Jones, goring him badly and throwing him to the ground. He then trampled the prostrate man, breaking several ribs and injuring him internally in a frightful manner. Mr. Blanton made every effort to drive the infuriated animal from Mr. Jones, but did not succeed until he was fatally hurt .- Fredericksburg Star.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him the same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful medicine.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by L. Stabler & Co.,

Among the rumors and gossips that followed Lord Rosebery's resignation is one that connects his action with his matrimonial intentions. It will be recalled that rumor persistently connected Rosebery's name with that of one of the Prince of Wales' daughters, since hap-pily marries. Now it is declared that a mistake was then made; that the lady whose hand the noble Earl had venturall transient advertisements must be paid for ed to ask in marriage was actually the Prince's daughter Victoria. The story goes that the Prince did not regard the match with much disfavor, and that it had to be abandoned in consequence of opposition from a higher quarter, that is to say, the Queen disapproved. The lady, although 28 years old, remains un-married, and the Earl is still the best preserved unmarried peer in the British matrimonial market. But, according to the report referred to, they will not much longer remain in single blessedness, all opposition to their union hav-ing been removed on condition that Lord Rosebery retires from active participation in politics. Another version, not widely different from the foregoing, names the German widow of an English

'rince as the future Countess of Rosebery, and one is as probable as the other.

THE VENEZUELAN QUESTION .- A dispatch from London says: There can no longer be any doubt that Secretary was intrusted with a mission to bring about an understanding with the United States for the settlement of the Venezuelan dispute. He had admitted as much privately since his return, though he gave no indication of what success attended his efforts. He hast-ened to the Colonial Office on his arrival in London on Saturday afternoon, remained only long enough to greet his assistants, and then hurried to the Foreign Office, where Sir Julian Pauncefote was already closeted with the Prime Minister, and the three remained in consultation a long time. Sin estly hoped, if not expected, by British officialdom that a settlement of the question will speedily be announced. It may be added that the British government still couples this question with a proposal for some form of arbitration treaty between the two countries.
